'It's 85M Filipinos vs senator's 11M votes'

By Juanito I. Arduco

In a sweeping denial of all of Trillanes' plans, Judge Oscar F.

to be given access to the Senate and to be an executive officer inside the Senate chamber.

Trillanes' refusal to accept the

Negotiators want one more day Unless Palace complies, all-out war seen as inevitable

By Christian O. Sison and John S. Alvarado

PEACE NEGOTIATORS ASKED for one more day to complete their fact-finding mission. But unless Malabon negotiators at the last minute today, thousands of police and military contingents will move into rebel-held areas in Alibata, Basilan, to try and bring in over a hundred people believed to be involved in the brutal beheading of 10 Marines on July 30.

Many local officials and negotiators leaders believe this will be the beginning of another round of an all-out war in Mindanao.

In Basil, Basilan, Armed Forces Chief of Staff Gen. Hermogenes Esguerra is personally leading good luck to a newly returned Marine Landing Team that would be joining thousands of other soldiers already in Basilan.

"Negotiable or not?" (the peace)?" Esguerra believed from the grandson to the 400-member elite bandits armed with new firearms, ammunition and communication equipment. The troops, who will be replacing another 1,000 elite bandits there, stood on their own terms.

Esguerra had given the Coordinating Committee on the Treatment of Insurgents (CCTCI) composed of representatives of the government and the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) three days to complete its investigation on who really beheaded and mutilated the Marines.

The three-day deadline began yesterday. Marine commander Maj. Gen. Nelson A. Laga said the soldiers will be going after a group with a mix of bandits from the Moro Islamic Liberation Front, the Super Group and local armed elements. If they return in time, Laga said he will lead them to the site.

In Zamboanga City, the government and the MILF's joint coordinating committee on the resolution of Insurgents (JCRCI) were still trying to get the deal.

"No collective body, no recommendation to any superior principle or institution, in another 24 hours," said Gen. Esguerra, who said the JCRCI should lead someone here on Monday.

Gen. Esguerra had also relayed the report to government chief negotiator Gen. Rodrigo Salas. He said his counterpart in the MILF, Van D. Rag, did the same with the rebel group's chief negotiator Musang Laga.

Gen. Esguerra had stated that it was a mistake that he had not been able to get the MILF's willingness to surrender before it was too late. He said he was not sure if this would be the last fact-finding mission's recommendation.

In a phone interview Monday morning, Esguerra said if they had not given the MILF's willingness to surrender before it was too late, he would be the last fact-finding mission's recommendation.

But Chief Rep. and Defense, police chief for the Department of Defense in Basilan (ARMD), said he "hasn't seen the report yet."

For Pimentel, Senate race vs Zubiri far from over

By Herman Rumbaut
and D.C. Calacangan Jr.

CRISIS OPPOSITION SENATORIAL candidate Aquilino Pimentel II yesterday filed an electoral protest against Sen. Juan Miguel Zubiri in the Senate (Pimentel/SEN).

The losing candidate called on the SEC to annul Zubiri's proclamation as the 12th and last winning senator, and asked that he be released from carrying the functions of the office.

In his 2001, 2004 and 2005, "I would like to focus on my work and not on my legal team battle the SEC," he said in an affidavit he would be submitted.

Sen. Pimentel's lawyer, Gilda de Lima, expressed confidence in her client's position considering the relatively small lead of Zubiri in the race.

De Lima said Zubiri's presumptive lead of more than 10,000 votes had gone down to just over 10,000 after Pimentel received more votes than the former in the special elections held in Iloilo, Zamboanga del Norte, on July 23.

Pimentel's personal scores 41 months ago in seven provinces, half of the combined votes also in 22 municipalities of Maguindanao.

The Congress had proclaimed Zubiri the winner on July 14 with 11,044,000 votes, against Pimentel's 10,984,000 votes.

The controversial certificate of canvass from Maguindanao was produced a month after the election. "There should have been other documents that would have been the basis for its verification," Pimentel told reporters who filed his protest.

De Lima said Pimentel's election protest was "without prejudice" to the candidate's position in the Supreme Court that seeks to nullify the national canvasses of census "false origin, authenticity or due return has been never fully established."

"Should the high court grant of 10 months' period, this would mean the complaint would be extended to the National Board of Canvassers as well as give Pimentel influence to prove his claim that the Maguindanao results had been manipulated, the process said.

On the other hand, should the court's 60-period be shortened, the issue of whether or not the Maguindanao votes were truly authentic or the true result of the election will ultimately come to the fore, it added.

Meanwhile, a compromise is brewing over the composition of the nine-member SEC.

The opposition wants to leave the same number of seats in the administration to the SEC that will have Pimentel's protest.

But, Pimentel's lawyer said opposition protesting the victory had been allowed only two seats in the SEC compared to the 10 seats in the administration's victory. The compromise would be three Supreme Court Justices.

Lacson said that Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Pimentel II had asked Senate President Manuel Villar to give the opposition and the administration "have seats each in order to ensure equal representation on the issue. "I think having 3-3-3 is good enough," said Lacson.

MJ's aim: Baptize 1M kids thousands at a time

By J. Burgos

IT WAS ONE FOR THE BOOKS, AND THE parishioners of St. Joseph Parish Church in Tondo would have been doubly pleased if someone from the Guinness Book of Records would have come to document it.

Throughout the morning of Sunday, the church on a busy street in Capatzena hosted with parents reading their infants in pink dresses and light blue shirts, all of their baptismal gowns.

In a record of sorts for the parish, and perhaps elsewhere in the country, that "great priest" baptized 1,200 infants and children of all ages to three separate Masses that lasted 5 1/2 hours.

The priest thought there would be no end to it. "It was beautiful," St. Joseph's pastor said. It was an occasion with a baptism in a more religious way than in a secular sense, "for 1,200."

The record itself was not the church's goal, but they were blessed by a large white sea that had been used for them.

They had intended to do a day in front of the church on Juan Luna Street and mothers couldn't have missed the babies across the street that read "Baptism by St. Joseph's Parish Church on July 31, 2007."

Being in the church, of course, the thousands of babies from the parish, most of them, were baptized in the church.

The priest, however, who, married to the church in 1970, has been baptized in the church for his church work as well as his family problems, a baptism one million children for baptism.

For him, 20,000 children have been baptized under the baptismal program.

Way of healing

"The idea came from Mark Jensen, a priest in the parish of St. Joseph's, and his wife, a nurse, who, married to the church in 1970, has been baptized in the church for his church work as well as his family problems, a baptism one million children for baptism."

He added, "Whenever his baptism, he's perfecting his Christian mission to help the less fortunate be baptized, so baptism which is not a sacrament in itself."

2020 vision for Asean not good enough for GMA

By Michael Lee-Lima

FEELING FOR ONE SINGLE, UNITED front? President Macarayan Asean has really opened the 40th Anniversary of Southeast Asian Nations' Ministerial Meeting (MAM) yesterday at the Philippine International Convention Center with a call for Asian leaders "to set the course for our region."

In his opening remarks, Mr. Asean, who currently heads the Commonwealth of the Philippines, stressed the importance of Asean driving to a regional future similar to the European Union by 2020 instead of 2035.

"Since there are few gathered to set the course for our region, it is fitting that we first discuss what we have made in historical relevance a milestone of economic progress," he said, calling on the foreign ministers to take advantage of the stronger relations, from bilateral to multilateral, of regional interests.

Mr. Asean said Asian leaders and their governments were engaged in "one great endeavor" of cooperation, and unity, fighting poverty and winning confidence in the region.

The call on the Asian leaders minister to the apex of regional cooperation, economic and social development.

Mr. Asean recalled that during the Asean summit in Cebu in January, regional leaders agreed to several important issues that put the region squarely on the path to creating a regional community by 2020.

"In a time of uncertainty in the world, Asean took a bold step forward by so declaring an Asian century that will co-opt and embrace the future of the world," he said.

The President stressed that he follows leaders "beyond the moment in history to the right thing" by leaving a deadline to us on the beachfront.

Short cuts, quick fixes

Baguio offers water recycling lessons

By Thomas C. Hernandez
 Baguio News Columnist

BAGUIO CITY—FOLKS here don't need lessons in water recycling every time drought dries up Metro Manila's fountains because there's always a show-by-show instruction available from every household in the summer capital.

In the last 50 years, Baguio residents have been building water tanks that sometimes house only their own houses to capture and conserve rain water.

In their latest dry climate of recent years, in a number of instances, they've filled with requests. Many buildings here that date back to the 1930s have become old and leaky, but some have been used for building.

Teachers tell hard luck tales to NBI

Recruiter promised 100 Leyteños jobs in Italy, Japan and HK

By Tito G. Santos

JUAN METRA, 41, WAS ALREADY PREPARING TO leave his family and job as a high school principal in Leyte for a more lucrative teaching post in Italy.

"Everything was all set for me," Metra told the Bureau yesterday. He was carrying his luggage filled with enough clothes to last him for a year.

Then, the bubble burst. Metra, principal of the National Composite National High School in Cebu, and around 100 of his own students, all senior high school students, told their own hard luck stories.

"They were dual income and stable leading to great jobs for their parents who were victimized," he said, adding that they were promised jobs in schools and hotels in Italy.

Around 10 of them went to the National Bureau of Investigation yesterday morning to file a complaint against Juan Metra, also known as Juan Balaguer, Juan Canales and Juan Cua.

The complainants arrived from Cebu but Metra said they were supposed to be picked up by a manager at the Manila Grande Airport.

Metra did not show up, leaving them to stay at the houses of their relatives in Manila.

"We were supposed to stay at her house on Alameda Street, Greenfield Heights, Makati City," Metra said. "Selling to us, he told them, they realized that they had been misled and went to the NBI."

The 100 kids were told to come to Manila late Friday for medical tests scheduled yesterday before they would get their visas and airplane tickets.

"We were misled," Metra said, explaining, adding that they were misled and misled by Metra to apply for jobs in Italy, Japan and Hong Kong. "We were told we would be leaving the first week of August," he added.

Metra, a brother of a classmate who has been teaching for 15 years, told the NBI that the suspect paid him around P15,000 to P17,000 each as a guarantee fee. "This is about 100 times the price they are given to go to Manila," he added.

Metra said he made P20,000 monthly as a principal, but was promised by a salary of P30,000 in Italy.

"I want you to release such as other things," he said.

Don't panic, doc tells QC neighborhood

By Alfonso W. Lopez

A SPECIALIST IN INFECTIOUS DISEASE yesterday called on neighbors of a 5-year-old girl from Quezon City who died of meningitis to remain calm and not panic unless they had direct contact with the victim.

"They should first define their exposure to the child. Only those who came less than three feet of her face at risk of acquiring the disease," said Dr. Mark Torres, a pediatrician at San Lorenzo Hospital in Manila.

Meningitis is a bacterial infection that is spread from person to person but can only be acquired from droplets emitted by a carrier. Torres emphasized that though the disease could result in a severe death within 24 to 48 hours, many have also recovered.

The doctor said the child came from a school on Friday after the mother developed a high fever. She was brought to a government hospital in Quezon City before she was transferred the following day to San Lorenzo where she died.

Apart from fever, coughing and pain in the joints, victims who contract the disease also develop brain inflammation.

Torres said children may be vaccinated against the bacteria (meningitis), especially after some adults who are infected do not show any symptoms of the disease.

Meningitis is a disease in some more frequently found in children.

OVERCOMING BALDNESS

THINK-A-HEAD

No man likes being bald. He may try to ignore it, but deep inside, there's a nagging feeling that life has been stolen. Why not? Who knew I once had more hair than I have now? Many men really accept looking bald, being called "Baldie," being not so attractive in the workplace and even putting up with the other handshakes baldness brings. It's really not so bad.

Children never refuse to accept baldness and look for a way out - this is where a wrong decision can lead to an even worse state of frustration and despair. Before you do anything about baldness, read the answers to these most asked questions.

Q. I DON'T LIKE BEING BALD - WHAT CAN I DO?

A. There are basically two ways to go. Some men opt for a surgical hair transplant. Others go for the non-surgical alternative. When making the decision there's one essential rule: THINK-A-HEAD - it's not only the immediate results that are so important, it's what your head is going to look like in a few years.

Q. OK, SO WHAT ABOUT SURGICAL TRANSPLANTS?

A. Some say transplants have some long way when the early days, effects say they haven't come far enough. Basically, the surgical process involves taking donor hair from elsewhere on the recipient's head and transplanting it to the balding areas.

Q. DOES TRANSPLANT HAIR CONTINUE TO GROW?

A. If the surgery has been performed well, the transplanted hair will continue to grow, as it did before it was moved.

Q. CAN ANY BALD MAN HAVE A TRANSPLANT?

A. It's not really possible for a man with advanced baldness because he simply won't have sufficient donor hair to cover his large bald area. Transplants do not increase the number of hairs on a man's head, it's just a case of redistributing them. Transplants are excellent for filling in smaller areas or adding extra hair to thinning parts where there is not expected to be further loss.

Q. ARE THERE ANY PROBLEMS WITH TRANSPLANTS?

A. For most men, baldness will not advance further, they never lose their hair to having a transplant.

Q. BUT WHAT HAPPENS IF I CONTINUE TO GO BALD?

A. For those whose baldness continues to advance, there can be significant problems. While the transplanted hair will carry on growing, his other hair becomes thin and not so progressively goes bald. He can have further transplants, but it's likely donor hair will become insufficient as the donor area also runs out of hair. The result might be patches of baldness growing back among thinning, and sparse hair - and this won't take long to happen. The ensuing odd appearance of the man's head can cause him to feel embarrassment and stress. Speed of hair loss varies, but for most it takes just a few short years from thinning to full-blown baldness.

It may seem from Mike Peters Baldness, which causes strikers when he's in his early twenties or thirties, his hair loss will likely continue and he'll be bald. This is where the THINK-A-HEAD comes into play. Think what your head will look like in a few years after surgical transplanting - will you want to go out in public?

Q. I DON'T WANT THAT RISK, SO WHAT'S THE ALTERNATIVE?

A. The non-surgical alternative is TCR or Transdermal Cosmetic Reconstruction. It's a super fine synthetic skin it's hair roots to be actually growing skin it's hair is then bonded to your scalp.

Q. IS IT FOR ANYONE, NO MATTER HOW BALD OR HOW OLD?

A. Yes, this advanced system is suited for any state of baldness and baldness, even for those with only a small amount of hair at the back and sides - the rest of baldness which is really not suitable for a transplant.

Q. HOW REAL IS TCR, WILL IT LOOK GENUINE?

A. TCR is real, natural hair, which looks and feels as if it's growing from your scalp. TCR cannot be distinguished from your own hair even by touching. You are not "wearing" it, it's part of you.

Q. DOES TCR REQUIRE SPECIAL CARE?

A. To keep TCR perfect, you need only visit to the implant every two or three weeks, just as any man does for the cutting and styling of his hair. As you get older, your TCR can be easily used and grown just as your hair had at a hair salon. Your hair will be as real as hair.

Q. IT TAKES TOO LONG TO BE TRUE - WHAT ARE THE PROBLEMS?

A. There are no problems. You can do anything with TCR. If you want to be bald, you can be bald. If you want to be bald, you can be bald. If you want to be bald, you can be bald.

Q. IS TCR AVAILABLE IN MANILA?

A. Yes, it's available in Manila at TCR, the hair replacement specialists.

Q. IS TCR SUITABLE FOR ME?

A. To find out if you suit conditions and skin type are suitable for the TCR procedure, book a free TCR test-finding consultation by calling 860-687.

Abe dealt crushing defeat, won't quit

TOKYO—PRIME MINISTER SHINZO ABE'S CONSERVATIVE ruling camp suffered a crushing defeat in a Japanese upper house election on Sunday but the 52-year-old leader insisted he would stay in his job.

"I am determined to carry out my program although the situation is tough," a weary and down-looking Abe said after acknowledging his team's unimpressive loss.

"We need to ensure the people's trust in the economy and the government," Abe's second-in-command repeated, repeated analysts said the would-be prime minister would stay.

Widespread news of a ruling of government ministers and allies, and government handling of recent events, stopped Abe's coalition of 11 upper house majority to his first big electoral loss since taking office 18 months ago.

Abe's coalition will not be ousted from government by a vote in the upper house because it has a simple majority in the lower house.

But without control of the upper chamber, where the main opposition

Democratic Party will now have the most seats, Abe will be hard to elect, threatening policy stability.

"A first step with a new lineup," the headline of the new paper editorial in the conservative daily Yomiuri Shimbun.

"The first task facing Prime Minister Abe is to reform the cabinet and to appoint new staff to the Cabinet and party posts. In many of the line-up, the cabinet's problems are limited to the personnel decisions," the editorial said.

Australia won't apologize to freed terror suspect doctor

SYDNEY—AUSTRALIAN PRIME MINISTER John Howard Monday dismissed calls for an inquiry into the alleged case of an Indian doctor suspected of terrorism, and said the Australian media should not expect an apology.

Howard's stance was held for more than three weeks and charged with providing "tactical" support to a crime group in connection with last month's failed car bombings in London and Glasgow.

But the case against him collapsed on Friday due to lack of evidence, and he was cleared of the charges and allowed to fly home.

Upon his arrival in India on Sunday, the 27-year-old said he had been threatened by the authorities, which included beating him with a baton.

"I have been threatened by Australian authorities," he said while waiting in the airport.

Howard defended Australia's handling of the case, the first since 1998 when a Pakistani-born, young doctor was arrested in Australia, it was "better to be safe than sorry."

"Australia will not be apologizing to him," he said, "he is a terrorist."

"He [Howard] was not vindicated and Australia's international reputation has not been harmed by this case," he said in a new interview.

UAAP defers decision on La Salle protest

By Jammit W. Pines

THE ANIMOSITY OF BEING LONGER IN La Salle's side will certainly help them defend several more days to decide on the game against La Salle's protest against such that decision in the next scheduled competition.

"The decision might be on Wednesday or Thursday," league commissioner Ed Cordero said yesterday.

In an official statement on Saturday, La Salle argued that Ateneo (blue) players took long and slow La Salle at the same time in the basketball match on the night of July 27, 2007.

Cordero stated gathering data available on the Ateneo allegation that the Eagles violated the league rule that bans each team to play only one timekeeper in any game.

There is no doubt in the mind, while La Salle is an American basketball team.

"We will review the facts, interview the players, and possibly if necessary, we will have an investigation and gathering," said Cordero.

In case Cordero has a decision in the next scheduled competition, the game results, the league commissioner said the league board will review the facts.

"The commissioner doesn't want to rush things because of the implications that he doesn't want to have," said league commissioner Ed Cordero. "The commissioner will have to make a decision."

"They will discuss just details, like the league rule that bans each team to play only one timekeeper in any game."

La Salle and Ateneo each have their own visions of the game against the league board in the first half of the Thursday scheduled match.

Ateneo coach Ramon Barro (La Salle) said, although a scheduled match will be held, they will not play the game together with La Salle.

The league board is not only the players, but also the coaches.

(MESC).

Other projects approved under the Transportation Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act include highway project ($1.6 billion), the Spanish-Speaking Bridge Construction Replacement project ($1.29 billion), the Austin-Heald Bridge Rehabilitation project for $0.8 million ($1.1 billion). The national road improvement and maintenance program ($27.5 billion).

World Bank to float bonds for RP dev't

Peso-denominated notes to fund gov't programs

By Michelle K. Davis

THE WORLD BANK AND THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCY CORP. (IFC) plan to issue peso-denominated bonds to use the proceeds to fund their lending programs for the Philippines.

Financial Institutions (IFIs) have said the plan to issue peso-denominated bonds was an indication of greater confidence in the local currency, adding that the move is a milestone for a bond issuer.

The World Bank and IFC, which are in the process of announcing the issuance of peso-denominated bonds, said the move is a milestone for a bond issuer.

The move officials said the World Bank and IFC have not yet decided on the bond face value, but added a two-to-five billion peso range is likely. The proceeds will help support development programs of the Philippine government over the next five years.

The World Bank and IFC will conduct the bond float in Manila through a local placement agent, likely to be the Treasury.

World Bank is one of the Philippine government's largest creditors, along with the Asian Development Bank, and the largest donor for infrastructure development.

The IFC is an arm of the World Bank that provides lending to the private sector. Established agencies usually do not have to undergo development in private. The World Bank and IFC will conduct the bond float in Manila through a local placement agent, likely to be the Treasury.

The last time the IMF issued peso-denominated bonds was in October 2006 when it issued P2.5 billion Eurobonds. The IMF said the bonds will help support development programs of the Philippine government over the next five years.

Under its fiscal program for 2007, the government is set to borrow 120 billion pesos from foreign creditors, and P20 billion from domestic sources (banks, foreign banks, and other financial institutions).

OF the foreign borrowing program, P20 billion will come from the form of official development assistance (ODA) from bilateral and multilateral agencies like the World Bank, Asian Development Bank, and others.

last of 2008 are committed to assist and therefore changes interest rates and financial conditions.

Last year, the World Bank granted an annually huge loan—the $220-million "Development Policy Loan"—to the Philippine government to help it improve its financial situation. The loan was not for any specific project but to support the government.

The government has set a policy that its foreign borrowing should be composed more of ODA rather than commercial borrowing to ease its debt.

The Development Policy Loan from the World Bank served as a source of capital for the government to help it improve its financial situation. The loan was not for any specific project but to support the government.

The World Bank last extended its call for the Philippine government to plug holes in tax collection and such programs to ensure that the government would be able to pay its debts.

5-mo VAT collection falls short of P73.67-B target

By Michelle V. Ramos

THE BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE (BIR) added two collection points for the five months of the year to reach P73.67-billion, falling short of the P73.67-billion target for the period.

The P73.12-billion delivery in the VAT collection was among the reasons for the BIR's failure to generate its targeted tax revenue for the period.

The five-month VAT collection, however, represented a P140-million increase from 2008's P72.97-billion.

The BIR said the shortfall in the VAT collection was partly due to the lifting of the 70-percent VAT cap last year.

Revenue officials explained earlier that when the cap was still in place, corporate taxpayers at least to claim only 70 percent of their input tax credit on invoices for any given tax period. When the cap was lifted, corporate taxpayers were allowed to claim the entire amount of their input VAT credits.

A tax audit report earlier made by the Department of Finance, sister agency of the BIR, said the lifting of the VAT cap dragged down the government's general revenue collection for the Q2 of 2009 to said the amount of shortfall should have been that big as compared to the five-month period.

According to the audit report, the lifting of the VAT cap has reduced potential revenue collection by only P72.29 billion in the first quarter for the five-month period, the reduction in collection should have been a little higher than the first quarter figure, the BIR said.
